

The Titan Coaching Tree Continues to Grow

Fullerton, Calif. - The Cal State Fullerton coaching family tree stretches far and wide and now boasts more than 50 former players and coaches still teaching the game of baseball. The basis for the elite college baseball program you see today began in 1973 with legendary skipper Augie Garrido and later flourished with the pupils of Garrido and another college baseball legend, Wally Kincaid (Cerritos College). Since then, generations of Titan players and coaches have gone on to contribute at numerous levels of baseball throughout the country.

The list below contains former Titan players and coaches that are CURRENTLY coaching from the high school level to the major leagues. Others included on this list are former players and coaches that are working in baseball at the major league level.
